

Secondary Data Sources

Data from numerous secondary sources were used in prioritizing the top health issues and appear throughout the 2022 Goodhue County Community Health Needs Assessment (CHNA). Primary data such as surveys, key informant interviews, and community engagement are provided in the other annexes. Please note that data found at the links below may differ from what appears in this report, due to data updates, differences in the way data is pulled, or other reasons. While this list includes many publicly available secondary sources used frequently in the CHNA, this is not a comprehensive list of all secondary data sources cited in the CHNA report.
